“È tutta colpa della luna, quando si avvicina troppo alla terra fa impazzire tutti”

William Shakespeare

“It is all the fault of the moon, when it becomes too close to the Earth, it makes everyone go crazy”

William Shakespeare

*“Gli accostamenti
più arditi
riescono
a far cantare
i materiali
e le forme”*

Krizia

*“The boldest
settings can make the material
and the forms
sing”*

Krizia

*“Seguo la natura
senza poterla
afferrare;
questo fiume
scende, risale,
un giorno
verde,
poi giallo,
oggi pomeriggio
asciutto
e domani sarà
un torrente”*

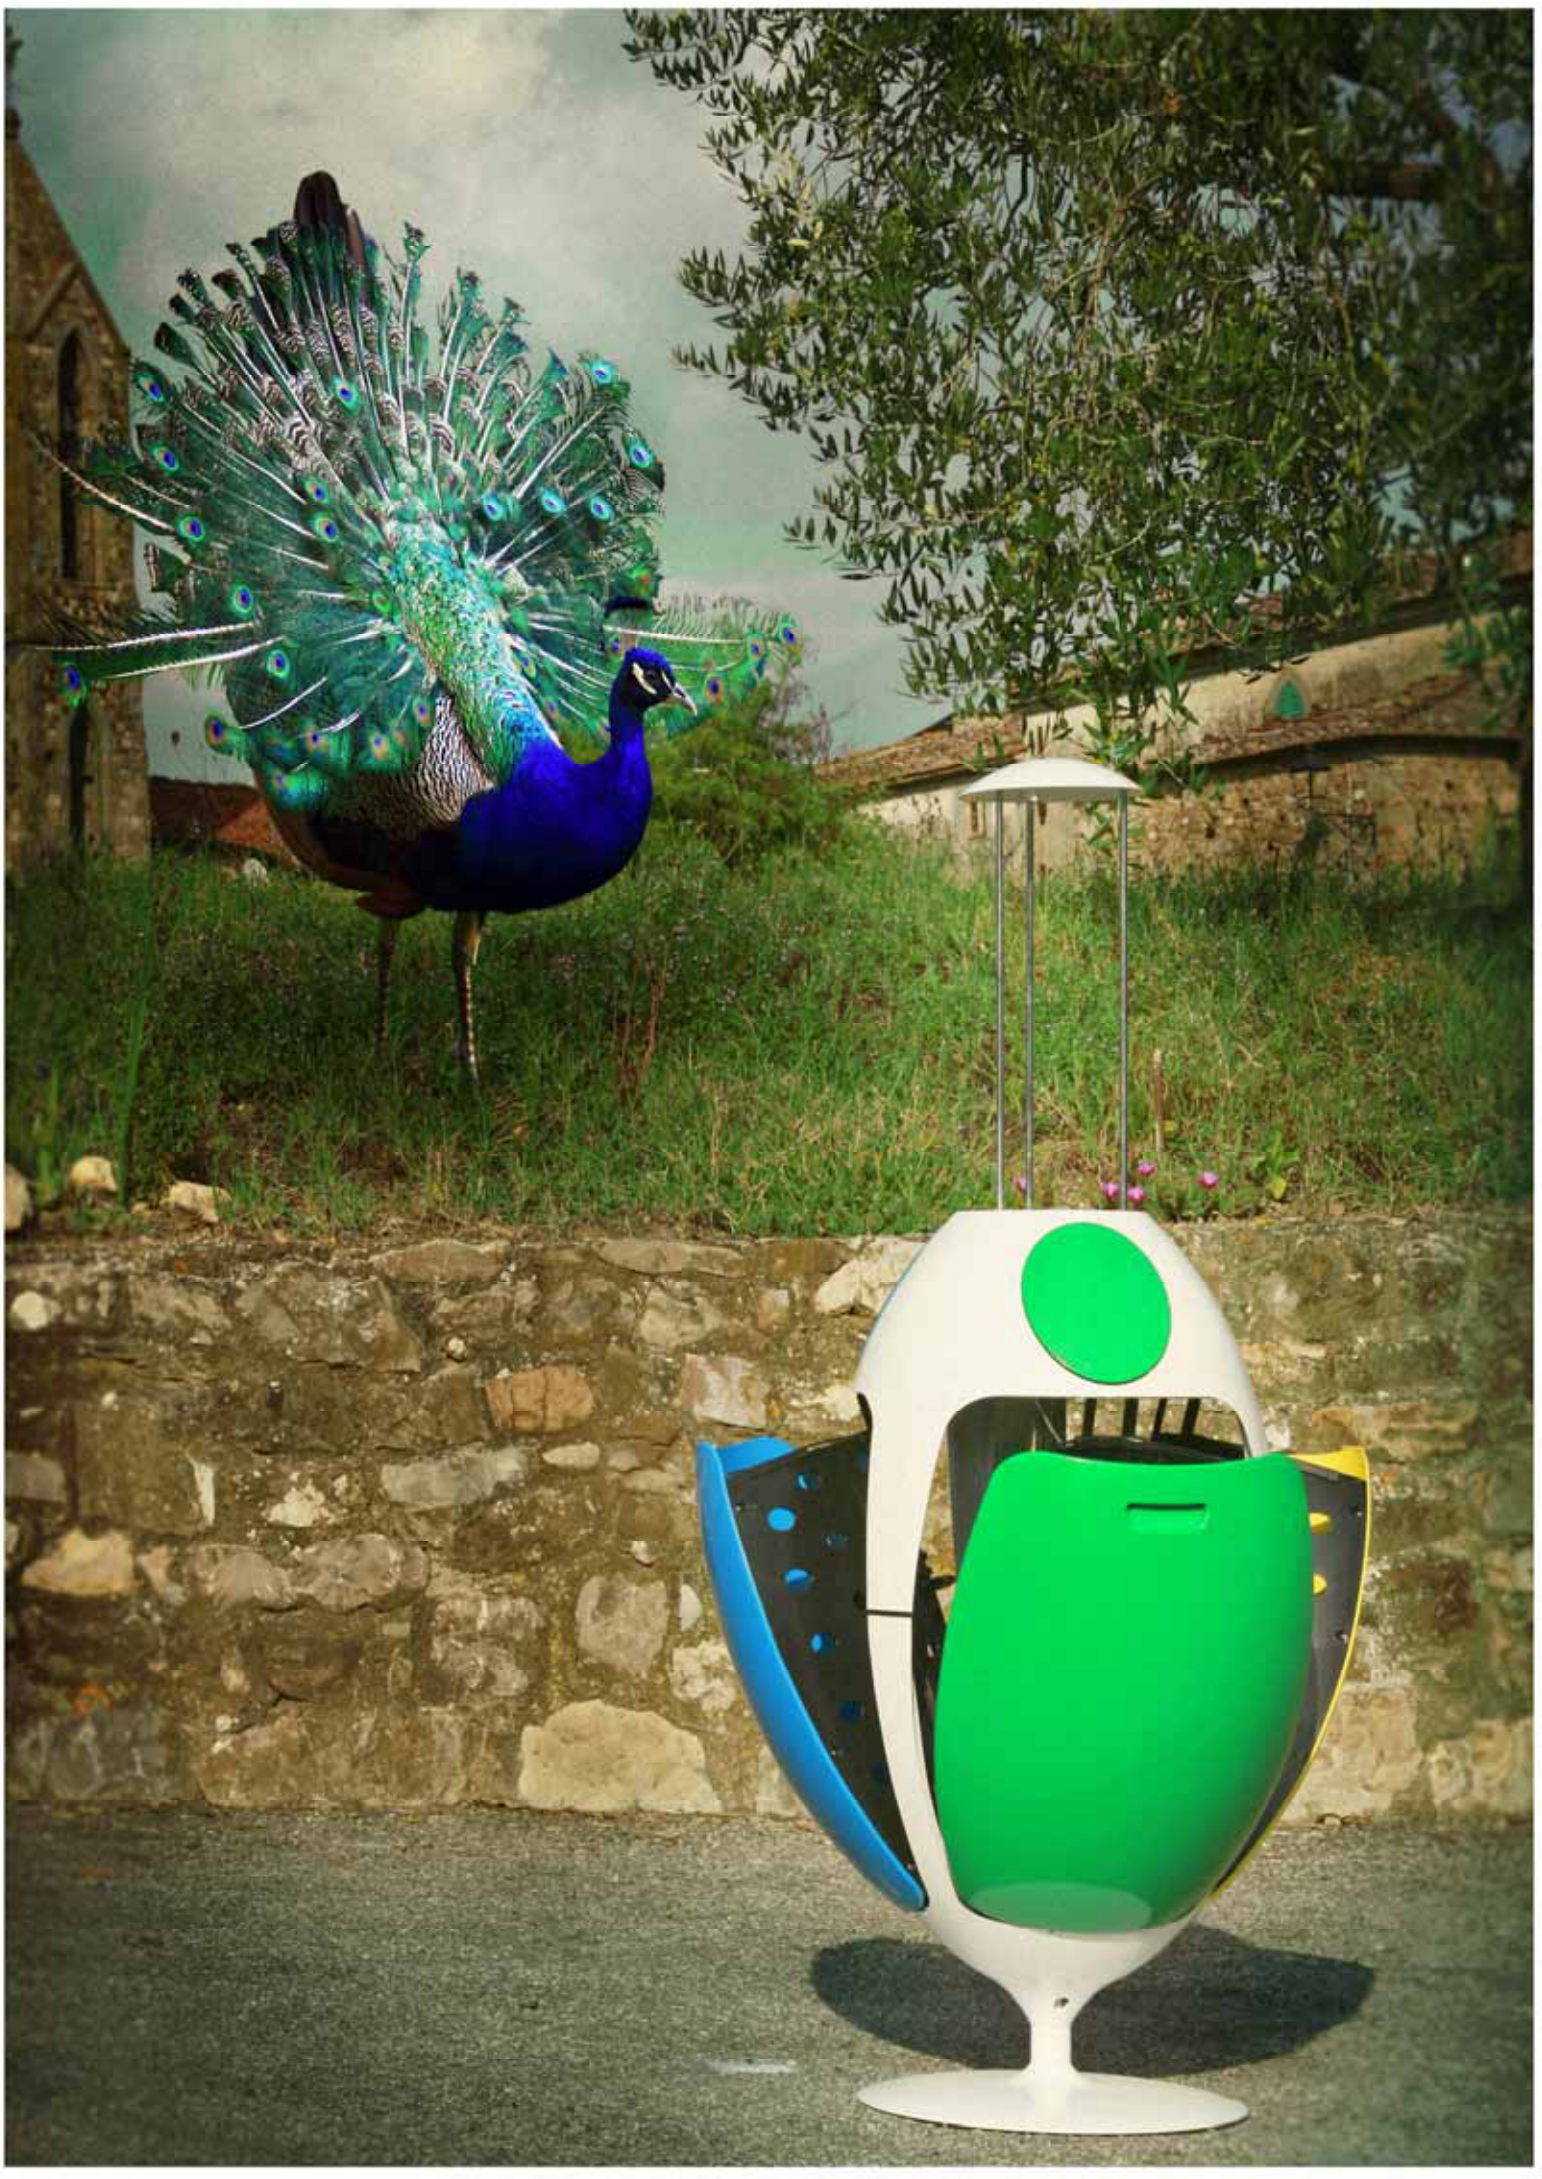

Claude Monet

*“I follow nature
without the possibility of
catching it,
the river falls,
goes up again,
a green day,
after yellow,
this afternoon
dry and tomorrow there will be a torrent”*

Claude Monet

"If I have the strength to change the things which can be changed, if I have the patience to accept the things which can not be changed, if I have most of all the intelligence for being able to distinguish"

Tommaso moro

“La bellezza salverà il mondo”

Fedor Dostevskij

“Beauty will save the world”

Fedor Dostevskij

*“Nel passato le persone nascevano nobili.
Oggigiorno la nobiltà deriva dalle proprie azioni”*

Gianni Versace

“In the past people were noble with the birth, Nowadays nobility comes from their actions”

Gianni Versace
